Can You Capture South Devon?

Top prizes are on offer as Visit South Devon launches 2019 Photograph Competition to find a picture that captures the region at its best.

The search is on for the image that shows the true essence of South Devon in a summer photography competition launched by Visit South Devon.

The 2019 Visit South Devon Photograph Competition is asking photographers to take inspiring images of South Devon to be in with a chance of winning one of three great holiday prizes.

The top three images selected by the public vote will be hosted on the Visit South Devon website, Twitter or Facebook page and will win one of these;

1st Prize - Premier Holiday Caravan Break for up to 4 people in 2020 at Beverley Holidays in the English Riviera (see T&Cs).

2nd Prize - A short break in a Glamping Pod at Ladram Bay Holiday Park for up to 4 people in 2020 (see T&Cs).

3rd Prize - A Family Day Pass to World of Country Life, which admits two Adults and two Children.

All finalists will also get the option, if they wish, to write a guest blog post on South Devon and photography which will be hosted on the Visit South Devon blog.

Entries can be submitted by Instagram, using the hashtag #SDphotocomp2019, or emailing enquiries@visitsouthdevon.co.uk from now on until 5pm on Sept 17th, with the public voting for their favourite on Sept 20th. Full entry details can be found here.

“The competition is open all summer to allow lots of time for photographers to get out and about in South Devon and show off what this great region has to offer,” said Visit South Devon’s Anna Roach.

Beverley Holidays said: “Stephen Pearce, Marketing & PR Manager at Beverley Holidays said: “We are pleased to be working in partnership with Visit South Devon’s on their photo competition, offering a family Caravan break at our award-winning holiday park. We’re excited to see all the fantastic photo content that will be captured on this stunning South Devon coast”.

Carla Newman, Marketing & Events Manager at Ladram Bay Holiday Park said: “We're hugely inspired by our stunning local scenery and are always keen for an excuse to get out & about with the camera to capture the beautiful imagery across the region. We're delighted to offer a prize within Visit South Devon's photo competition and very much look forward to viewing the finalist’s photos in due course.”

Debbie Butler, Marketing Manager for World of Country Life said “World of Country life is pleased to be involved in the competition good luck to all who enter!”

In 2018 there were a record breaking number of photo entries from holiday makers, locals, professional and amateur photographers with the overall winner announced revealed as Joe Toakley from Devon with this image of Bantham Beach.

“We’re really looking forward to seeing images for this year,” said Anna, “And we encourage people to have their phone or camera with them this summer to be sure of capturing that South Devon moment that could scoop the top prize.”
